2017 Annual Report

Prevent and fight crime

Improve the culture of safety in the organization and within the community

Keep pace with urbanization

COMMUNITY POLICING DEFINITION

Community Policing is a proactive and cooperative partnership between the Fairfax County Police Department and the community to improve the overall quality of life by:

• Fostering and maintaining mutual trust and respect.

• Recognizing and solving problems,

• Preventing crime and disorder,

• Identifying and arresting offenders

TABLE OF CONTENTS:

INTRODUCTION:

Since July 1, 1940, the Fairfax County Police Department has engaged with the community to ensure Fairfax County remains the safest jurisdiction in the United States. The men and women of the Police Department continue to achieve our vision of preventing and reducing crime, increasing a cultural of safety by valuing the preservation of the sanctity of life for all, and keep pace with urbanization.

The McLean District Station is one of eight police districts within Fairfax County. This district encompasses a wide range of residential housing types, a large commercial district, home to many fortune 500 corporations, and the seat of several federal agencies. Due to our strategic location to Washington, D.C, many federal workers call our district "home." We are especially pleased to be an inclusive community with many demographic populations, cultures, religions, and freedoms of expression.

The McLean District Station is commanded by Captain John S. Trace and Lieutenant Tim Field. Each brings a vast array of experience and knowledge, having served in many capacities in their police careers. The district station includes more than 135 sworn police officers, more than 20 non-sworn employees, including Auxiliary Officers, Crossing Guards, Volunteers-in-Action, Victim-Services Specialist, Police Citizen Aides, Administrative Assistant, Station Logistics Technician, and other staff. Together, this harmonious workforce strives to carry-out the critical mission of the agency.

The commanders believe in freedom and creativity, setting a motivational environment, for the officers to successfully solve crime and community issues. In their strategic plan and station vision, they have emphasized several key initiatives: Traffic Enforcement, Community Engagement, Crime Reduction and Prevention, and Officer Safety and Wellness. Each commander strongly believes in "fairness," both to the officers and the public we serve. Their core philosophy is serving with an ethical foundation, taking pride in everything you do, and giving your best effort, even in the face of controversy and challenge. It is said, "Teamwork is the ability to work together toward a common vision. The ability to direct individual accomplishments toward organizational objectives. It is the fuel that allows common people to attain uncommon results." This is the mantra of the men and women who serve at the McLean District Station.

In the proceeding pages, you will find a collection of data, statistics, highlights, pictures, engagements, all of which is a snapshot of time for the year 2017 in the Mclean District. This will become a living document in hopes that our communities, our partners, our networks, can view with pride. This annual report captures most, but not all, of the tremendous work the officers of the McLean District Police Station have exhibited in 2017.

We take great pride in serving our community, working with our children and elderly, those in need, and look for opportunities for dialogue. The exchange of information, of ideas, of concern, make us a greater and stronger community. The relationship between the public and the police that are entrusted to protect them is critically important. Let's continue to build bridges and foster a better society.

Thank you,

Captain John Trace and Lieutenant Tim Field

GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION:

The McLean District Station comprises one of eight "police district stations" serving Fairfax County. To provide geographic perspective, figure 1 below provides a map of all eight police district stations serving Fairfax County, with benchmark streets and highways. In addition to the McLean District Station (3), the other Fairfax County district stations include: Sully (Station 1), Mount Vernon (Station 2), Mason (Station 4), Reston (Station 5), Franconia (Station 6), West Springfield (Station 7), and Fair Oaks (Station 8).

As can be seen from the map, the McLean Station is physically located, in the northeast corner of Fairfax County. The Station serves McLean, Tysons, Pimmit Hills, Merrifield, Dunn Loring, Idylwood, and portions of Wolf Trap, West Falls Church and Great Falls. Its' central address is: 1437 Balls Hill Road, McLean VA 22101. The contact phone number and fax number are respectively: 703-556-7750, 703-356-7208.
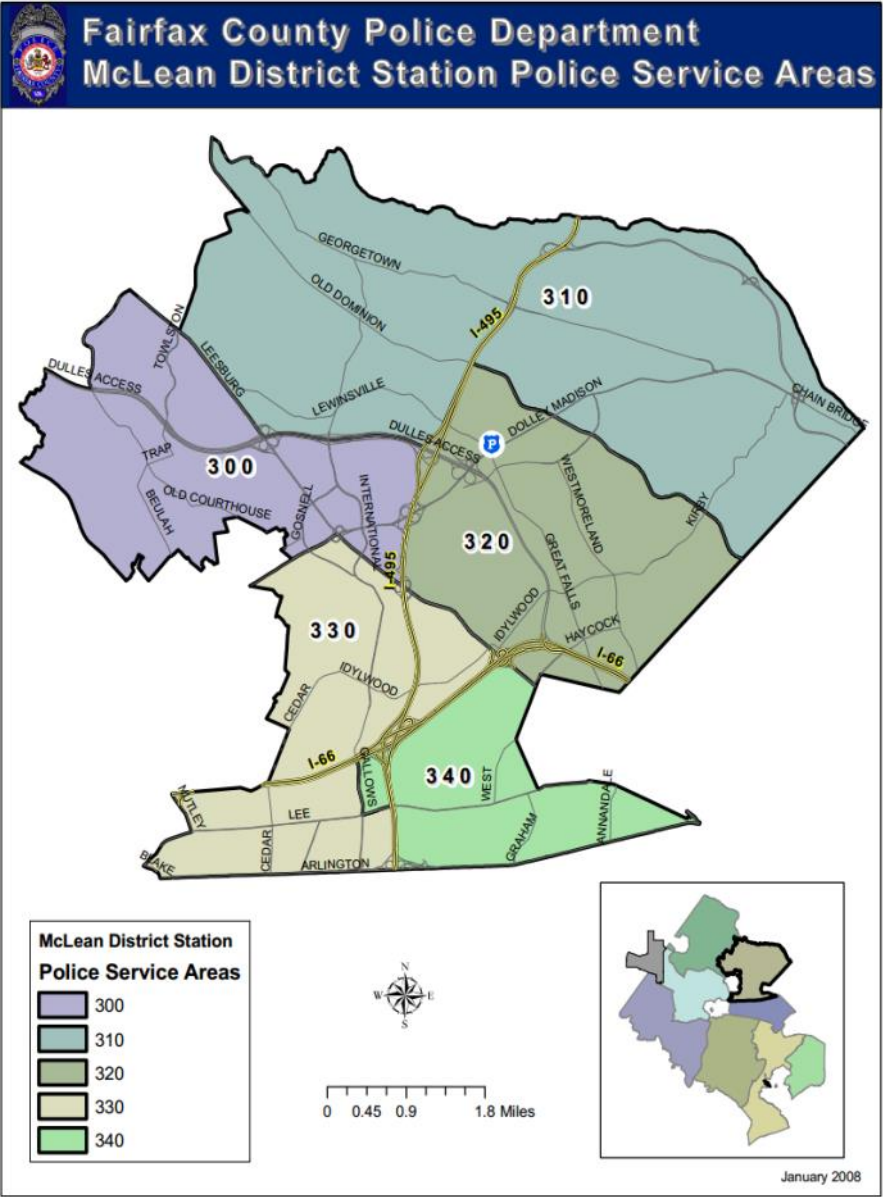

For crime analysis assessment and police dispatch services, the McLean District Station is subdivided into five "police service areas" (PSAs) serving the Station. As indicated in figure 2, these include PSA 300 (Census designated places of Wolf Trap and portions of Tysons), 310 (Portions of the Census designated places of McLean, and Great Falls), 320 (Portions of the Census designated places of McLean, Pimmit Hills, and Tysons), 330 (Portions of the Census designated places of Tysons, Dunn Loring, Idylwood, and Merrifield), and 340 (Portions of the Census designated places of Idylwood and West Falls Church).

An additional seven subdivisions (referred to as "patrol areas") have been created within the five PSAs of McLean Station to (a) aid in the administration , (b) provide finer clarity of where crimes are being committed, and (c) assist in the dispatching process. These patrol areas, include: 301 (A portion of the Census designated places of Tysons), 302 (A portion of the Census designated places of Tysons), 311 (A portion of eastern side of the McLean Census designated place East of I-495), 321 (The eastern side of Census designated place of Tysons along the western side of Pimmit Hills), 331 (The southern portion of the Census designated place of Tysons, all of Dunn Loring and portions of Idylwood), 341 (the north western portion of the West Falls Church Census designated place), and 342 (The north eastern portion of the West Falls Church Census designated place).

Of particular importance is the Tysons area, where the Commonwealth of Virginia and business community have expended sizeable funding to build a major economic development sector. With increased economic growth , the potential for increased crime can follow. Businesses, residents, and community groups can review crime changes in each of these numbered PSA/patrol areas to determine real time (current) crime incidence figures, as well as changing crime trends. In this handbook, we present crime trends over a 4-year period of time (2013-2016). Consumers can view changes over time in the crime data, for their respective areas of interest, to determine levels of safety as well as potential areas of concern. These four years of analytical crime data are presented in the following sections of this handbook for the consumer to digest in collaboration with the FCPD, to bring about greater early intervention and prevention strategies.

In all, the McLean District Station encompasses 44.22 miles of land and 709 miles of roadway, a sizeable expanse to control. However, as viewed in the data section of this handbook, Fairfax County Police in collaboration with the various communities, have been able to maintain a relatively low rate of crime.

POPULATION:

Population continues to grow throughout Fairfax County, as well as in the McLean District Station (the key area of concentration in this handbook). In 2015, the population living in both households and group quarters across the 12 Police Service Areas (PSAs) of the McLean District amounted to 149,125 individuals. As indicated below, that population figure is expected to sharply grow over time.

With greater population growth, the incidence and rate of crime and traffic problems may have a tendency to rise as well. The relationship between population growth and various types of crime and traffic problems will need to be carefully monitored, with police dispatching modifications made as necessary.

Table 1. Expected Total Population and Growth across the 12 PSAs of the McLean Station for 2020, 2030, and 2040

Years	Expected Population	Expected Population Growth (%) Since 2015
2020	172,910	16.0%
2030	210,962	41.5%
2040	241,312	61.8%

These population figures do not include the many thousands of individuals taking advantage of the hotels, retail establishments, restaurants, movie theatres, etc. in the McLean District on a continuous or sporadic basis. There are no valid, agreed-upon population statistics for these target audiences to date.

Looking specifically at Tysons Corner, the big economic driver within the McLean District , the population growth is even more substantial. For the total Tysons area (including: Tysons East, East Side, Old Courthouse, Tysons Central 7, Tysons West, West Side, North Central, Tysons Central 7, Tysons West, and Tysons Central 123), the total household and group quarters population for Tysons in 2015 was 20,042. Expected Tysons population growth for 2020, 2030, and 2040 is substantially higher (see Table 2 below).

Table 2. Expected Total Population and Population Growth across Tysons for 2020, 2030, and 2040

Years	Expected Population	Expected Population Growth (%) Since 2015
2020	34,843	73.8%
2030	66,945	234.0%
2040	90,985	354.0%

The reader should be aware that these population figures do not cover the large number of passengers exiting from the four new Silver Line Metro stops into the Tysons area each day, and the large number of automobiles pulling into Tysons parking lots each and every day. Knowledge of quick exit ways from the malls can foment added crimes being committed over and above those already expected. At this point, the number of criminal incidences taking place by persons living in geographic areas outside the McLean District is unknown.

Table 3 shows the expected population across the 12 McLean District Station Patrol Areas for the years 2020, 2030, and 2040, as well as the population growth expected across these areas since 2015.

Calls for Service

The Fairfax County Police Department gathers Calls for Service statistical data based on the date the call is entered into the FCPD Records Management System. This report specifically represents the McLean Station Calls for Service, whether generated by citizen calls or self-initiation on the part of the officer. Calls for Service captured in this report include all dispositions whether Founded or Unfounded and excludes those with a description of Null or Miscellaneous. Statistics for CY2014, CY2015, CY2016, and CY2017 used in this report may differ from those published in previous reports. Additional cases were reclassified as they were under active on-going investigations after publication. This may include status changes to initial offenses and reclassification of offense titles from the initial date reported.

There are three main categories of Calls for Service included in the number of Calls for Service for which FCPD has rendered service: Criminal, Service, and Traffic.

Calls for Service include the following categories:

The Tysons Urban area is comprised of two whole Patrol Areas and portions of three others. Figure 7 is an estimated calculation of the Calls For Service of the events within each of those parts. The Police record management system is not currently configured to make the separation and the calculations were made utilizing mapping software. Some events may have calculated differently based on the location value either captured from the vehicles GPS or assigned by the dispatch system.

Group A IBR Offenses

The Fairfax County Police Department gathers statistical data based on the Virginia State Police Uniform Crime Reporting Incident Based Reporting (IBR) system. Information relating to two different levels of offenses is collected by the IBR system. The most serious offenses are designated as Group "A" offenses; the less serious offenses are designated as Group "B" offenses. Group "A" offenses consist of 22 categories of crimes involving 46 different offenses; a maximum of 10 offenses per incident may be reported. Group "B" offenses consisting of 12 crime categories only require reporting arrest data and the identification of the case and reporting agency. IBR offenses are divided into three categories: "Crime Against Persons," "Crimes Against Property," or "Crimes Against Society." Crimes Against Persons are those whose victims are individuals. The object of Crimes Against Property is to obtain money, property, or some other benefit. Crimes Against Society represent society's prohibition against engaging in certain types of activity. The use of named districts indicates activity within the particular police district's geographical boundaries regardless of officer assignment. This data is not reflective of Board of Supervisor District boundaries.

This report represents the Fairfax County Police Department's Group A IBR Offenses as published in the Statistical Reports for calendar years 2013-2016.

Crime Against Persons are calculated by the number of victims of reported offenses based on the dates reported.

Crimes Against Property and Crimes Against Society are calculated by the number of reported offenses based on the dates reported.

IBR Offenses captured in this report exclude those with a disposition of Unfounded.

NOTE: Statistics for CY2013, CY2014, CY2015 used in this report may differ from those published in previous reports. Additional cases were reclassified as they were under active on-going investigations after publishing. This may include status changes to initial offenses and reclassification of offense titles from the initial date reported.

"A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words"

2017 was an outstanding year at the McLean District Station with our community engagement focus. This was a key goal of the Commanders, with emphasis placed on the youth in our community. Every supervisor, officer, auxiliary, and support staff member had a hand in this tremendous outreach. Although not all engagements can be captured within this annual report, we do, however, wish to share a few shining examples of success.

Let's remember why we lock up Drunk Drivers

Every day, 28 people in the United States die in an alcohol-related vehicle crash—that's one person every 53 minutes. Drunk driving fatalities have fallen by a third in the last three decades; however, the chance of being in an alcohol-impaired crash is still one in three over the course of a lifetime. These deaths and damages contribute to a cost of $52B per year.

Books and Badges

Thank you so much for coming out to the library today! That was so much fun for the kids (and their parents!) It was interesting to see the kids start out so shy and then open up. One little boy told another staff member "I was afraid at first! But now I'm not."

PFC Cory Mey went to the Dolly Madison Library and read to the kids on Saturday, February 25, 2017.

GREATER McLEAN CHAMBER of COMMERCE

As a part of Crossing Guard Appreciation Day, McLean District Station officers wanted to personally thank every crossing guard for their dedicated service and hard work, keeping our children safe! The officers gave every crossing guard a Starbucks gift card and coffee cup. Great work by a great partnership! The first photo is PFC Greg Bedor and Edith Adcock. Edith has been a crossing guard for 30 years! In the second photo, crossing guard Catherine Stride.

McLean District Station 2017 Crime Prevention Programs

Community crime prevention programs and strategies target changes in community infrastructure, culture, or the physical environment in order to reduce crime. The diversity of approaches include neighborhood watch, community policing, urban or physical design, and comprehensive or multi-disciplinary efforts. These strategies may seek to engage residents, community and faith-based organizations, and local government agencies in addressing the factors that contribute to the community's crime, delinquency, and disorder. At the McLean District Station, we strive to implement programs and strategies, network with our vast community partnership, and seek solutions with long term success. Some, but not all, initiatives are included below.

- DWI Enforcement
- Six-Pack Patrols
- DWI Checkpoints
- Shoulder Tap operation
- "Sticker Shock"
- Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety (day shift)
- WO&D campaigns
- NHTSA Safety Awareness- Seat Belts (Langley and McLean HS)
